2. Introduction

At The Acres, we keep our school safe and calm so that pupils can learn. Screening, searching and confiscation are tools we use to keep harmful and banned items out of school, including weapons, drugs, alcohol, vapes and mobile phones. We use these powers lawfully, proportionately and with the pupil's dignity and welfare in mind, and we always put safeguarding first.

Some of our schools screen pupils on arrival to stop phones and vapes coming on site. This policy explains how we screen and search, what we may confiscate, and the limits the law places on us. It keeps two different things clearly apart: screening every pupil as a condition of entry, and searching an individual pupil because we suspect they are carrying something they should not have.

Searches should, wherever possible, be undertaken away from other pupils to preserve dignity and reduce distress.

3. Aim & Scope

This policy applies to all staff, governors, pupils, parents and carers, and visitors at The Acres. It aims to:

- Keep harmful and banned items out of school.
- Set out clearly when and how we screen, search and confiscate, and the legal limits on each.
  Protect the dignity, welfare and rights of every pupil, and treat searching as a safeguarding matter.
- Make sure staff act consistently, record what they do, and involve parents and the police appropriately.

4. Abbreviations and Definitions

Screening. Requiring pupils to pass through or be scanned by a walk-through or hand-held metal detector, an arch or a wand, on arrival or at other times. Screening applies to all pupils and does not involve physical contact.

Search with consent. A member of staff searching a pupil, or their possessions, where the pupil has freely agreed and understands what will happen.

Search without consent. A search of a pupil, their outer clothing, possessions, desk or locker, carried out under the statutory power without the pupil's agreement, where there are reasonable grounds to suspect a prohibited or banned item.

Prohibited items. The items set in law that a search can be made for, namely knives and weapons, alcohol, illegal drugs, stolen items, tobacco and cigarette papers, fireworks, pornographic images, and any article likely to be used to commit an offence or cause injury or damage.

Banned items. Items the school bans in its rules and may search for, for example mobile phones and vapes. These are not prohibited by law, so the school may only search for them if it has named them in its rules, and reasonable force must never be used to search for them.

5. Policy Content

5.1 Principles and Approach

Our approach rests on the following principles, drawn from the DfE guidance and the lessons of the Child Q safeguarding review.

Copyright – to be used only with prior and express permission of Keys Group.

Safeguarding comes first. A search is a serious step. We consider the welfare of the pupil at every stage and treat any search as a safeguarding matter.

Dignity and proportionality. We use the least intrusive approach that meets the need, and we treat pupils with respect.

Two distinct powers. Screening every pupil as a condition of entry is different in law from searching a pupil on suspicion, and we keep them apart.

Clear legal limits. Reasonable force may be used only to search for items prohibited by law, never for banned items such as phones or vapes.

We never strip search. Schools have no power to strip search. That is a police power, and we do not use it.

We adapt for need. We take account of a pupil's age, special educational needs, disability and any trauma, and we record and review what we do.

5.2 Searching, Screening and Confiscation in Practice

Prohibited items and banned items

Our behaviour rules set out the items pupils must not bring to school. This list includes every prohibited item set in law, and the items The Acres bans in its own rules, such as mobile phones and vapes. Because vapes and phones are not prohibited by law, we can only search for them because we have named them in our school rules, and we never use reasonable force to search for them. The full list for our school is in the annex.

Screening on entry

Some of our schools screen all pupils on arrival, using a walk-through or hand-held metal detector, to keep weapons, phones and vapes off site. Screening applies to every pupil, does not single anyone out, and does not involve physical contact. We tell pupils and parents in advance what the screening involves and why we do it. A pupil who refuses to be screened may be refused entry until they agree, and we manage that under our Behaviour Policy (EDU.POL.027) and contact parents. The screening arrangement for our school is set out in the annex.

Searching with consent

Staff may ask a pupil to agree to a search of their possessions or person. We make sure the pupil understands the reason for the search and how it will be done, so that any agreement is informed. A pupil can decline, in which case we consider whether a search without consent is justified.

Searching without consent

A search without consent may be carried out only by a member of staff the headteacher has authorised, and only where there are reasonable grounds to suspect the pupil has a prohibited or banned item. We may search a pupil's outer clothing, pockets, bags, desk and locker. The pupil is not required to remove any clothing other than outer clothing.

The search is carried out by a member of staff of the same sex as the pupil, with a second member of staff present as a witness. There is a narrow exception only where there is a risk of serious harm and it is not reasonably practicable to wait, in which case the reasons are recorded. Reasonable force may be used only to search for items that are prohibited by law, and never to search for banned items such as phones or vapes. We take particular care with pupils who have special educational needs, a disability or a history of trauma.

Searching electronic devices and phones

Where a phone or other electronic device is confiscated through a search, staff may examine data or files on it only where there is a good reason to do so. If a member of staff suspects the device may contain an indecent image of a child, they must never view, copy, share or delete the image. They confiscate the device, do not look at it, and refer the matter to the designated safeguarding lead at once, who advises on the response and on involving the police. Any data or file that may be evidence of an offence is preserved and the device handed to the police as soon as possible. We follow the DfE guidance on examining and erasing data.

Confiscation, retention and disposal

Staff may confiscate any item found in a search that poses a risk, is prohibited or banned, or may be evidence of an offence. We deal with confiscated items as follows:

- Weapons and knives, and anything that may be evidence of an offence, are passed to the police, and we always involve the designated safeguarding lead.
- Illegal drugs and stolen items are passed to the police, unless there is a good reason to dispose of a controlled drug safely, in line with the guidance.
- Alcohol, tobacco, cigarette papers and fireworks are retained or disposed of and are not returned to the pupil.
- Vapes are confiscated and disposed of safely and are not returned to the pupil.
- Mobile phones and other banned items are confiscated, kept securely and returned in line with our Mobile Phone Policy (EDU.POL.040) and Behaviour Policy (EDU.POL.027) at The Acres.

Weapons and serious violence

Where a search finds a weapon, or raises a concern about serious violence, we treat it as a safeguarding matter, involve the designated safeguarding lead, contact the police, and consider a referral to local authority children's social care. This reflects the strengthened duties in Keeping Children Safe in Education on weapons and serious violence.

We do not strip search

Schools have no power to strip search a pupil. A strip search is a police power under the law, and it is never carried out by school staff. If the police consider a strip search on school premises, an appropriate adult must be present unless the law allows otherwise, the pupil's welfare and dignity are paramount, and the designated safeguarding lead is involved throughout. We follow the safeguarding principles set out after the Child Q review.

After a search

After any search we check the pupil is alright and offer support, inform the pupil's parents or carers about the search and anything confiscated, and record the search and its outcome. Where a search raises a safeguarding concern, we act on it through our Safeguarding Policy (EDE.POL.002).

5.3 Recording, Monitoring and Reporting

Every screening incident that leads to action, every search and every confiscation is recorded on CPOMS, with what was found, who was involved and the outcome. Leadership and governors monitor this data, including for any disproportionate impact on pupils with particular protected characteristics, so that The Acres applies these powers fairly.

5.4 Equality and Inclusion

At The Acres, these powers are used fairly and in line with the Equality Act 2010. We monitor searches for any disproportionate impact, and we adapt our approach for pupils with special educational needs, disabilities or a history of trauma. Any concern that this policy is applied unfairly should be raised with the headteacher.

6. Responsibilities

6.1 Pupils

Co-operate with screening as a condition of entry and understand that the school may search for prohibited or banned items.

6.2 Staff

Only carry out a search without consent if they are authorised by the headteacher, and always within the legal limits in this policy put safeguarding first, involve the designated safeguarding lead where needed, and record every search and confiscation.

6.3 Leadership

The headteacher at The Acres authorises which staff may search without consent, sets the screening arrangements, and makes sure every search is lawful, proportionate and recorded. The headteacher may authorise staff generally or for a specific search.

6.4 Governance

The proprietor and governors at The Acres make sure this policy is lawful and applied fairly, and they review search and confiscation records, including for any disproportionate impact on particular groups of pupils.

6.5 Parents and carers

Are informed of the screening arrangements in advance, and are told when their child has been searched or had an item confiscated.

6.6 Named leads

The designated safeguarding lead at The Acres is Jessica Howkins. The staff authorised by the headteacher to carry out searches at The Acres are listed in the annex.

7. Training Requirements

Staff authorised to search are trained on the legal powers and limits, on safeguarding and dignity, on same-sex and witness requirements, and on handling electronic devices and indecent images. All staff are briefed on the screening arrangements and on this policy, and training is refreshed regularly at The Acres.

8. Equality Impact Statement

All policies will be developed and implemented in a manner that promotes equality, diversity, and inclusion, ensuring fair and equitable treatment for all individuals. Policies must align with relevant equality legislation and reflect the expectations and standards set by our regulatory bodies. They will demonstrate a commitment to eliminating discrimination, advancing equality of opportunity, and fostering an inclusive environment that respects and values the diverse needs, backgrounds, and experiences of those we support, as well as our workforce.

9. Sources of Information / References

11.1 Appendix A: School-Specific Annex

Banned Items at The Acres

In addition to prohibited items defined in law, The Acres identifies the following as banned items which may result in a search where reasonable grounds exist:

- Mobile phones
- Vapes and vaping-related products
- Cigarettes and tobacco products
- Lighters and matches
- Illegal substances and drug paraphernalia
- Energy drinks
- Alcohol
- Any item that may reasonably be used to cause harm, threaten others or disrupt the safe running of the school

Items prohibited by law will be managed in accordance with statutory guidance and may be referred to the police where required.

Search Authorisation

The following staff are authorised by the headteacher to conduct searches without consent:

- Jo Rawlinson, Deputy Headteacher
- Robyn Taylor, SENDCo
- Terry Marriott, Assistant Headteacher
- Jessica Howkins, Designated Safeguarding Lead

Where possible, searches will be undertaken by a familiar member of staff and in a manner that preserves dignity and minimises distress.

Search Procedure at The Acres

Where there is reasonable suspicion that a pupil may be in possession of a prohibited or banned item:

1. The concern will be shared with the headteacher or deputy headteacher.
2. A decision will be made regarding whether a search is proportionate and necessary.
3. Parents/carers will normally be informed prior to the search where appropriate and safe to do so.
4. Searches will take place in a private location away from other pupils.
5. A same-sex member of staff will conduct the search wherever required by legislation.
6. A witness will be present throughout the search.
7. All searches and outcomes will be recorded on CPOMS and any safeguarding concerns escalated appropriately.

Use of Screening at The Acres

The Acres does not operate routine daily screening of all pupils.
Screening or searches are only considered:

Copyright – to be used only with prior and express permission of Keys Group.

- When information has been received indicating a prohibited item may be present.
- When concerns have been raised by staff, pupils, parents or external agencies.
- Following safeguarding concerns.
- Where behaviour indicates a possible risk to safety.

Any decision to search is based upon reasonable grounds and a proportionate assessment of risk.

Safeguarding Response

All searches are treated as potential safeguarding events.
Where searches identify concerns relating to:

- Drug use
- Substance misuse
- Criminal exploitation
- Child-on-child abuse
- Weapons
- Serious violence

The designated safeguarding lead will be informed immediately and safeguarding procedures followed. Risk assessments and support plans will be reviewed where appropriate.

Recording and Monitoring

All searches and confiscations are recorded on CPOMS.
Senior leaders analyse:

- Number of searches completed.
- Reasons for searches.
- Items confiscated.
- Repeat incidents.
- Patterns relating to groups of pupils.
- Emerging safeguarding concerns.

This information is reviewed through safeguarding and behaviour trend meetings to identify any additional support, interventions or preventative actions required. This supports The Acres' wider safeguarding and behaviour monitoring processes.

Substance Misuse and Vaping Concerns

Where searches identify vapes, nicotine products, cannabis or other substances, the school's response will include both consequences and support.
Support may include:

- Pastoral intervention.
- School nurse referral.
- Substance misuse education.
- Safeguarding assessment.
- Parent meetings.
- External agency involvement where appropriate.

The aim is to support pupils to make safer choices whilst maintaining clear boundaries regarding prohibited items.

11.2 Appendix B: Search Without Consent Quick-Reference

Use these steps for a search without consent. Record the search and outcome on CPOMS. Reasonable force may be used only to search for items prohibited by law, never for phones or vapes.

1. Check you are authorised by the headteacher and that you have reasonable grounds to suspect a prohibited or banned item.

2. Consider the pupil's welfare and any special educational needs, disability or trauma, and whether a safeguarding response is needed first.

3. Carry out the search with a member of staff of the same sex as the pupil and a second member of staff as witness. The pupil removes only outer clothing.

4. Search outer clothing, pockets, bags, desk and locker. Do not use force to search for banned items such as phones or vapes.

5. If an item is found, confiscate it and deal with it under section 7.6. For a weapon, drugs, stolen items or anything that may be evidence, involve the designated safeguarding lead and the police.

6. If you confiscate a phone or device and suspect an indecent image of a child, do not view it. Refer to the designated safeguarding lead at once.

7. Check the pupil is alright, offer support, and inform parents or carers about the search and anything confiscated.

8. Record the full timeline, what was found and the outcome on CPOMS.
